

J. Christopher Kirk

Summary

Seeking opportunities to contribute to a meaningful cause where I can collaborate with creative people and use my experience to make a difference.

Project management consultant for more than 30 years, working with many non-profit organizations on a variety of building projects. Provided full spectrum of project planning and management services, including project strategy, scoping, and feasibility, real estate and land use planning, and management of budgets, contracts, schedules, programming, design, permits and approvals, construction, FF&E, and occupancy. Previously practiced architecture and designed a variety of projects in diverse locations.
